IMPROVEMENT IS POSTPONED

City Council Sustains Remonstrance
Against Paving Two Blocks
in an Alley

PARK READY FOR ASSEMBLY

Supt. Mahin Reports Increase of 18 1/2
Per Cent in Electrical Output
During Year

There will be no concrete alleys constructed here this year. This the city council decided last night in sustaining a remonstrance against one proposed improvement and laying the other on the table indefinitely.

The remonstrance was presented against the paving of the alley between Main and Perkins street from Third street north to Fifth street. Howard E. Barrett appeared before the council representing the remonstrators. There were several named on the remonstrance that were on the petition. According to Mr. Barrett, seven of the property owners were in favor of the paving and fourteen were against it.

After explaining the law to the council in which he was upheld by the city attorney, the council voted to sustain the remonstrance by a vote of four to one, Councilman Scudder voted against the motion. Councilman Lee then moved that the paving of the alley from Fifth to Sixth street be killed and this was done by the same vote. The improvement of this section of the alley had advanced to the point of advertising for bids. Mr. Scudder explained his vote by stating that he desired to be consistent. He had been for both improvements and did not change his views when it came to a vote.

The question of cleaning Hodges branch through the city was again discussed. The council believed there was little use of cleaning the ditch in the city if the township did not clean it on through to the point where it empties in Flatrock. The township trustee advertised for bids but failed to receive any and as the law states the work must be done in August there is no chance of it being cleaned this year. The council decided to wait until the trustee got ready to clean his part of the ditch and then co-operate with him.

The street commissioner reported that the new bridge in the city park was completed and that the weeds

MILITIA COMPANIES ON THE MEXICAN BORDER ARE RIFE WITH DISCONTENT

Some Members of Indiana Companies Complain Because They Expected to Get to Fight

TURNED INTO DITCH DIGGERS

By WILLIAM G. SHEPHERD
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

San Antonio, Texas, August 2.—Militia companies which contain members who left factory positions expecting to fight in Mexico are rife with discontent.

It is undeniable that the federalized system which broke down as to soldiers with dependants and also in connection with students who will be leaving for their homes shortly, is working unfairly in respect to factory hands.

to the Chautauqua.

The usual weekly band concert will be given this evening at eight o'clock on the band stand on the west side of the public square. The Odd Fellows band has been doing unusually well this year and many compliments have been passed on their music. There will be no concert next week because the chautauqua will be in progress at that time.

PROSECUTOR WAS IN MANILLA TODAY

Visits Scene of Shooting but Fails to Uncover any New Evidence or Facts

CLINGMAN AT WORK AT USUAL

Prosecutor Albert Stevens was in Manilla today investigating the shooting of George Perry by George W. Clingman. The prosecutor's visit failed to uncover any new evidence or any new angle to the tragedy which cost the life of Perry, a member of the fishing party, mistaken for a burglar by Clingman.

Clingman, who was released from jail yesterday on bond provided for the first degree murder charge, was at the Mull farm today working as usual. When the charge was first filed yesterday afternoon Clingman was of the thought that he would secure the Mull brothers to go on his bond and stated that a trip to Manilla would be made for this purpose. He did not like the delay, however and secured P. A. Miller, his father, Rolla Clingman and John D. Megee as his bondsmen. It is understood that the Muls would readily have signed the bond. As stated yesterday the amount was $1,000.

Coroner Green has not yet filed his verdict and will not do so for a few days.

and Indiana Regiment, I found some men digging ditches.

"You want to know why we joined the militia," said one man. All stopped and gathered around.

"We were blankety blank blank fools," they said.

"We quit our jobs in Muncie factories to come down here and fight and they turn us into ditch diggers."

Another dozen men shouted excitedly: "If there is going to be no war, we want to go home. It's a blankety blank blank shame to keep us down here from our factory jobs and keep us working like this.

"They got us excited with war talk; that's why we joined," said another.

LECTURE FULL OF HUMAN INTEREST

Glenn Frank Deals With Modern Subjects in Way That Appeals to All Walks of Life.

AT CHAUTAUQUA ON MONDAY

O. B. Stephenson Says Zedlers and Colangelo's Band Are Attrac-

People who are of the opinion that the lecture by Glenn Frank of Northwestern university, Monday afternoon at three o'clock at the Rush county chautauqua, which opens next Sunday and continues until the following Sunday is ordinary, are greatly under estimating the man, according to members of the chautauqua program committee who have been getting reports on his lectures within the last week.

While in Chicago a few days ago, J. H. Scholl talked with O. B. Stephenson, representative of a bureau which has furnished the chautauqua a good list of talent. The program committee has always depended upon the word of Mr. Stephenson because his advice has never been wrong. He has always been frank to say what talent is extra good and what is not, regardless of whether it is his or belongs to some other bureau.

Mr. Stephenson told Prof. Scholl that Glenn Frank was creating a great impression wherever he has appeared. He will discuss in his lecture here what will happen financially after the European war ends. His lectures always deal with modern problems. A chautauqua audience always demands three things of a man who addresses it—that he be deeply interested in his subject, must be accurately informed about it and able to talk about it in an interesting way. This criterion is met in Mr. Frank's lectures.

All of his lectures are on vital subjects that are of interest to all people. While it may seem that a discussion of financial affairs after the war will be a very dry subject, it is stated that Mr. Frank has a way of making a thing interesting and dressing it up so that it has an appeal to every walk of life. His lectures represent the scholarship of study in the language of the man in the street. They are shot through with human interest.

Mr. Frank is by nature and training a clear visioned representative of Modernism and it is voiced by the intellectual and industrial life of the country. His treatment of these problems is marked by keen analysis, rare charm of diction, deftness of illustration and singular clearness of expression. His lectures possess the sincerity and vitality which come from careful study.

Mr. Stephenson told Prof. Scholl that Colangelo's band and orchestra was an up-to-date organization that dashed off some late music in good style and was equally as good in rendering the work of the old masters. He said the band and orchestra had been giving a good account of itself wherever it had appeared.

The Lyceum man also reported that the Zedler Symphonie Sextette was better than the Schumann Quintet, which was here two years ago and left such a lasting impression on chautauqua patrons. To be better than the Schumanns will have to be exceptionally good, it must be admitted, but chautauqua patrons are prepared for something good.

Prof. L. G. Ogden of the Ogden College of Physi-Culture, son of M. J. Ogden, 313 East Eighth street, who has made arrangements to lecture before the teachers institute each morning of chautauqua week, except Saturday, at the court house

STAGE WILL BE AN OUTDOOR BOWER

Supernatural Element in "A Midsummer Nigh's Dream" is to be one of Features

TUESDAY AT CHAUTAUQUA

No part of the production of "A Midsummer Night's Dream," is to be more picturesque than the scenes in which the supernatural element is introduced. Myraids of fairies are to flit about the stage, which will be an ideal setting for them. The plan is to make the stage into an outdoor bower. In the group of fairies are Miss Kathleen Hogsett, as a singing fairy; Miss Gladys Bebout as a speaking fairy; and in the group of fairies are Frances Payne, Kathryn Blount, Laurett Abercrombie, Milvine Cross, Mary Maud and Rosaline Reed, Margaret Herkless, Helen Lambert, Axine Dickman, Ruth Chadwick, Mary Elizabeth Beale, and Viola Jay. Miss Louise Poe is to play as queen of the fairies. Several new characters have been added to the cast. Tom Saunders and Norman Reed have recently been given parts.

As to the music, a full orchestra is to play for the production and there are several vocal numbers and choruses from Mendelssohn.

NO TRUTH IN STORY OF MEXICAN RAID

Troops Rushed to Finlay But There Was no Foundation for Rumor—Kelly Reports.

FIRST CAME FROM MILITIA

(By United Press.)

El Paso, Tex., Aug. 2.—Captain William Kelly, Jr., commanding the cavalry troops rushed from Fort Bliss to Finlay reported today there was absolutely no truth in the report that 150 Mexican bandits had raided the United States. The report of the alleged raid was received last night by General Bell from militia officers at Fort Hancock.

(By United Press.)

El Paso, Texas, August 2.—On reports that 150 Mexican bandits crossed the Rio Grande at Finlay, Texas, eight miles west of Fort Hancock, two troops of cavalry, a motorcycle corps and ten truck loads of infantry were rushed from Fort Bliss today to Fort Hancock. The reported raid is believed to be in retaliation for four Mexican bandits killed there Monday.

SEPARATE PEACE SEEMS UNLIKELY

Sentiment in Five War Capitals is That it Must be Kind That Will be Lasting.

PUBLIC OPINIONS CHANGE

England is Ready For Peace Now,
But it Must be on Her Terms—
Elsewhere About Same.

That separate peace is unlikely is the burden of the last series of articles by United Press staff correspondents in five war capitals, on the second anniversary of the great conflict. It seems that there will be no peace unless it be lasting. Public opinion is changing in regard to the war, according to the observations of the correspondents. The articles follow:

British Peace.
By ED. L. KEN.

London, July 12 (By Mail).—This story has to run several hundred words so as to match up with Ackerman's, Simms' Wood's, and Hearley's. Otherwise, it could be told in ten, thus: England is ready for peace now—on her own terms.

She is just as ready as she was the day after war was declared. War weariness has not discouraged her. The awful drain of blood and money, the knowledge that every day's prolongation of the struggle means a bigger bill in both to pay, has not abated her zeal or released her determination to win what she went to war for. The military reserves of the last year have stiffened her purpose to accomplish a peace that will remove forever the "Menace of Prussian militarism."

Yes, there is a peace-at-any-price party in England. But its members are negligible, its influence is nil. Some half-dozen of them are in Parliament because there has been no general election since war began.

As proof of this, witness the special election in Merthyr Tydvil, South Wales, the red-hot socialist constituency in all Britain. Keir Hardie, ever a consistent peace advocate had represented Merthyr Tydvil in Commons for fifteen years. When he died his seat was contested by two members of the Labor party, Stanton and Winstone, the former a supporter of Britain's war, the latter a Hardie pacifist. Stanton had the nerve to tell the coal miners he was for continuing the war to the finish, even if it meant conscription twice over and they elected him by a vote of 10,286 to 6,080. If Morrell, Snowden, Trevelyan, Outhwaite, Pringle or Mason, all from far less radical constituencies, should stand for re-election, there can be little doubt as to the result.

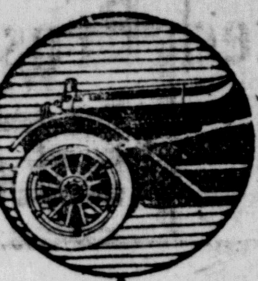

On the question of peace, statesmen and common folks with the unimportant exception referred to, are one. There has been no criticism of the replies of Premier Asquith and Foreign Secretary Grey to Germany's peace overtures.

England is ready for peace on her own terms. England's terms are those of her Allies. The general principals of which she is fighting have been repeatedly stated. Only one of her specific terms which the Allies endorse has been laid down, that is the restoration of Belgium. The German Chancellor's recent tentative offer to create a new Belgium, not a Franco-English vassal, but between whose people and Germans there should be the collaboration of neighbors, brought a prompt and specific response from the British Premier.

German Peace.

A New Back for an Old One—How a
Rushville Resident Made a
Bad Back Strong

The back aches at times with a dull indescribable feeling, making you weary and restless; piercing pains shoot across the region of the kidneys, and again the loins are so lame that to stoop is agony. No use to rub or apply a plaster to the to the back if the kidneys are weak. You cannot reach the cause. Follow the example of this Rushville citizen.

Charley Walker, 1023 N. Arthur St., Rushville, says: "I work where a lot of turpentine is used and it keeps my kidneys out of order more or less all the time. My back gives me the most trouble. It aches and is lame and stiff. The kidney secretions are too frequent, in passage and highly colored. Not long ago, I decided to try Doan's Kidney Pills and got a box at Lytle's Drug Store. They surely helped me and considerably relieved the trouble. I have a lot of faith in Doan's Kidney Pills and expect to continue their use."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Walker had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.—(Adv.)

Chicago, Aug. 2.—Wheat jumped terrifically today on the local board of trade. September closed at $1.30½ and was six cents higher than the close yesterday. December wheat closed at $1.34½ and was also six cents higher than yesterday's close. Reports of crop damage in Canada and this country is said to be the cause of the jump.

T. H. Reed and Son were quoting the price of new wheat today at $1.25 a bushel, which is the highest price ever paid in this county for new wheat. Mr. Reed stated that in his long experience in the mill business this is the highest price he ever paid. It was freely predicted that new wheat would reach the price of $1.50.

THIS ENCAMPMENT MAY BE THE LAST

Golden Jubilee Reunion of G. A. R. at Kansas City May End National Meetings

WILL OPEN ON AUGUST 29

(By United Press.)

Kansas, City, Mo., Aug. 2.—Twenty thousand veterans of the Grand Army of the Republic will mobilize here August 29 for the fiftieth national encampment. The fact that this will be the golden jubilee reunion, that it may be the last great encampment and that it will be the first in this section of the country in many years may send the crowd of visitors to 125,000.

While the young blood of the country is mobilized on the Mexican border, the "boys of '61" who fought to save the union will gather here for what promises to be the final review.

When the grey-haired and stooped veterans pass in review, few are expected to march. With the armies of today thoroughly motorized, the old men who wear the bronze button will not feel that it is a disgrace to pass in review in automobiles. Kansas City will furnish the motor cars.

HEADQUARTERS AT COLUMBUS SHACK

Flag Floating Over it is Only Thing That Would Distinguish it as Such.

ADOBE FORMS THE WALLS

(By United Press.)

Columbus, N. M., Aug. 2.—Possibly the most insignificant structure in Columbus camp today is used as U. S. base headquarters and the office of Major C. S. Farnsworth, commandant of the base. It is a V-shaped building of mud, or adobe, with a canvas roof. The flag floating over it is the only thing to distinguish it as headquarters.

The ceilings are low and the few windows badly chinked with mud. When the wind blows the major turns up his collar and puts on his goggles. On the earth, pine boards have been laid for floor. Adobe unadorned, forms the walls of the office. A sheet iron stove is set in a box of sand. The walls are covered with detail maps of Mexico and Chihuahua, showing the truck routes and water holes.

In the outer office alert orderlies wait for orders to rush messages to the wireless station or telegraph office.

Wilson and Dorothy Phillips will also be seen in a Rex comedy-drama entitled "Their Anniversary." One other reel is on the program. Tomorrow matinee and night will be the next number of the Pathe serial, "The Iron Claw."

The Princess offers the five act drama "The Ruling Passion" for the program tonight. William Shea

Hughes on Suffrage

Candidate Hughes undoubtedly made many friends when he announced yesterday in a telegram to Senator Sutherland of Utah that he favored the submission and ratification of an amendment to the United States constitution giving women the right to vote. Looking at it from a purely political point of view, it is a very wise attitude because by such a declaration Mr. Hughes will win many votes and will likely lose none, or in any event only a few.

But in regard to the merits of the question of giving women the ballot, Mr. Hughes was undoubtedly justified in his pronouncement in favor of woman suffrage. Most certainly women should have the privilege to vote if they so desire. There would be nothing compulsory about such an amendment. Women opposed to being granted the ballot need not vote. They can stay away from the polls just as some men make it the practice of doing.

Furthermore, Candidate Hughes is following the tenets of the Republican party when he declares for the reform through amendment to the United States constitution. The Republican party has ever been one that stood for a strong centralized government, whereas the Democratic party has been known as the state's right party. While President Wilson appeared to have a legitimate defense for his argument that the suffrage question should be settled by the states individually, when the history of his party is considered, there is no other recourse for the Republican party, if it endorses woman suffrage, as the national convention did, but to amend the constitution of the United States.

The process of amending is so safeguarded that there will be no danger of the amendment being passed unless a majority of the people want it. After passing congress the amendment must be sanctioned by three-fourths of the state legislatures, after the amendment passes congress, it may be ratified by the states at any time. Once a state legislature votes for an amendment to the United States constitution, its action can no be rescinded; but should a state legislature vote against such an amendment, it is possible at any time for the vote to be cast in favor and the expression against becomes void. So the advantages are in favor of the ratification of an amendment to the United States constitution, but for the large majority of votes necessary.

on the city ground had been cut and everything was in fine shape for the chautauqua. It was also reported that the work of tapping the First street sewer was progressing nicely. All of the taps have been made but nine. The city had a little trouble here in getting the property owners to tap the sanitary system instead of the old county sewer that has long since been abandoned.

Superintendent Mahin reported that the city had saved a total of $1,112.90 in coal during the last year. He also stated that there had been an increase of 18½ per cent in the electrical output and that the saving had resulted from installing water meters. The year is now up marking the end of the contract for Indiana coal. This coal has proved satisfactory.

Mr. Mahin also took up with the council the question of flushing some of the mains to get rid of the red water. The council believed it best to flush the mains rather than drain the mains and run the water back to the reservoir.

Mr. Mahin reported that he had been carrying out the instructions of the council regarding the turning off of water consumers delinquent. The list contained 112 names and all but 12 have been turned off. One peculiar case was brought to the attention of the council. Two different families are getting water through one meter. One is a tenant and the other owns his property. They have split the cost of the water equally and now one has paid and the other has not. The question arose as to what to do with the one that has not paid.

The council argued for a long time. Some believed it would not be right to turn the water off as one of the parties had paid. It was decided that the city should make only one charge and that hereafter the bill would be rendered in the name of the party owning the meter. At the same time the party owning the meter will have to look to the other party for the rent. City Treasurer Stech was told not to keep separate accounts of this kind and instead of double meter users let the parties the city keeping the books for the arrange it between themselves.

A petition signed by five property owners in East Eleventh street was presented to the council asking for the construction of a sanitary sewer to that section of the city. The council discussed this a long time ago when it was first proposed to pave the street. According to the council, the only possible drain is to extend the sewer from Jackson street over to this part of the city and as this cost would be exceedingly heavy the city did not think it best. This part of the city will have to have a drain some time and the cost is going to amount to a large sum. The petition was laid on the table as the city is not able at this time to provide a sanitary system to this section.

WOMAN GIVEN TWO DAYS

To Make Up Her Mind for Surgical Operation. She Refused; Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Philadelphia, Pa.—“One year ago I was very sick and I suffered with pains in my side and back until I nearly went crazy. I went to different doctors and they all said I had female trouble and would not get any relief until I would be operated on. I had suffered for four years before this time, but I kept getting worse the more medicine I took. Every month since I was a young girl I had suffered with cramps in my sides at periods and was never regular. I saw your advertisement in the newspaper and the picture of a woman who had been saved from an operation and this picture was impressed on my mind. The doctor had given me only two more days to make up my mind so I sent my husband to the drug store at once for a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and believe me, I only took four doses before I felt a change and when I had finished the third bottle I was cured and never felt better. I grant you the privilege to publish my letter and am only too glad to let other women know of my cure.”—Mrs. THOS. MCGONIGAL, 3432 Hartville Street, Phila., Pa.

many wants peace because she believes she has won the war. The Allies don't want peace because they believe they will win the war. The difference is between the “has won” and the “will win” and so long as there is this division the neutral diplomats in Berlin, the best informed neutral observers, declare there is no possibility of peace.

The people the world over are encouraged by peace talk and at the end of two years of war they are ready to make peace, each on its own terms. So are the German officials, the British cabinet and the government of France, but the public terms are such that an agreement could not be easily made.

The great difference between the Allies and the Central powers is that the Central powers are open to impartial mediation while the Allies discourage the idea.

The Allies, when their armies were being beaten back in France, and in Russia and when Serbia was invaded said to the public: “Don't mind these things; we will win ultimately. The Central powers have convinced the German people that every great military advance was a step toward victory and that because there have been so many of them the Central powers have been victorious.

That is the peace situation at the close of the second year of the war according to the view in Berlin. It raises many questions. Would Wilson be accepted as a mediator or, if not Wilson, then the next President? Would Germany insist on the terms she has outlined?

The answer depends on coming events. They will be influenced by military developments. The election in the United States will have its effect. Internal affairs in the various countries will increase or modify the respective peace views.

There is a peace party in Germany. Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg leads it. Some of the Conservative members of the Reichstag are his opponents. They know that if the Chancellor makes peace now he will not insist on the annexation of Belgium and Poland and that his terms will be “moderate”. The Conservatives lead the party which believes Germany has been decisively successful in this war and they think Germany should dictate iron clad terms. They know that the Chancellor will never support their terms so they are out to oust him.

French Peace

By HENRY WOOD
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Paris, July 5. (By Mail)—France is open to the consideration of a peace imposed by herself and her Allies. None other.

Within the last three months, or

the last quarter of the first two years of the war, France four times officially has said so.

A formal declaration by her president, a formal statement by her prime minister, a spontaneous outburst in her Chamber of Deputies and a great manifestation by the French people themselves all have said this and France closed the second year of the war with an absolutely solid front for a peace for all time to come.

May 14 at Nancy, President Poincaré delivered perhaps the most remarkable address that ever fell from the lips of a French President. It crystallized the sentiments of the French on peace.

In refusing to accept the olive branch of diplomacy as a means of settling the war France did not fear that in diplomatic negotiations with Germany she might be worsted. She is willing to let her victory in the Agadir case stand as a witness to her diplomacy to settle the controversy. She insisted upon war and France insists that Germany must finish the war.

Following these declarations there came within a week a spontaneous outburst in the French chamber as still further affirmation that France does not want even to discuss a negotiable peace.

The people themselves followed quickly, within a week, with one of those manifestations that mark epochs in the life of nations. Before the present war France was not united on the question of preparedness. If a regiment of troops passed it was certain someone would applaud and cry “Vive l'armee;” and that someone else would shout “Vive la Paix.” Noisy groups would form and riots were likely to follow.

On June 1, in honor of her dead General, Gallieni, Paris witnessed the first great military display that has taken place since the war began. Ascension day is one of the great national holidays of France. Representatives of all France lined the streets through which the funeral cortege passed.

Italian Peace.

By JOHN H. HEARLEY.
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Rome, July 5 (By Mail)—Only an Allied peace can satisfy Italy. The war will continue until only an Allied peace can be obtained. This is today's sentiment in Italian diplomatic circles. It is repeated by King Victor in the field. It is endorsed by the people of the Kingdom.

In Austria, Italy fights a hated and an hereditary foe. In Germany she opposes an “industrial and commercial menace.” The Italians are naturally liberty-loving. This characteristic began their war and will continue it, they declare.

To Italy anything, even the greatest bloodshed and the greatest sacrifice, is preferable to a German domination. “Austrians!” she hisses at the House's socialistic deputies who cry for a change in government. She frowns on an ex-Premier Giolitti's alleged attempts to return to power. Giolitti has been called Italy's peace-at-any-price. War certainly has sobered and hardened the people. It has made sturdy, stubborn patriots of all classes, especially of the women and children.

Generally Italy wars to save her allies and herself from “oppression.” An unselfish allied patriotism seems to have been born of the travail of a strife. Particularly she fights to win her own “geographical and marine liberty.” As a condition of the allied peace she will press the “correction” of her northern border. She will seek, as she always has sought, the return of her “unredeemed lands,” Trent and Trieste. The natural fortification of the Alps, which are now entirely in Austrian territory, must be divided. Italy must have something besides frontier plains and valleys to insure her a peaceful and prosperous life. The almost insurmountable difficulties of her mountain warfare, she asserts, have proven this to her beyond the shadow of a doubt. The “threat” of an armed Austria looking down upon her, must be forever removed.

Russian Peace.

By WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS.
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Petrograd, July 5 (By Mail)—“You can't write an article about peace in Russia,” declared Sergius Shidlovsky, ex-Vice President of the third Imperial Duma and President of the Bureau of the Progressive Bloc as we paced the long, hardwood floor of the Duma lobby.

“You can't, because there is but one thing to be said about it—one short, sharp, emphatic word—No!” This sums up fairly well the attitude of the Russian people regarding peace on any other basis than an Allied victory. Two years of war waged under trying circumstances finds them more determined than ever. They feel that they have just begun to fight because they are just now getting organized for fighting.

Rumors of a separate peace with Russia have been spread with considerable frequency. It has been said that there is even a Peace Party here, that a considerable element among the population demands peace. I have failed to discover such a party or such an element.

“It is a German lie!” the President of the Duma, Mikhail Rodzianko said when I told him that neutrals had been informed more than once that Russia might accept separate peace. He did not say this in anger. Rather he smiled. His attitude was considerably like that of Mark Twain who, when informed of his own reported demise replied with a dry chuckle that the report had been grossly exaggerated.

Rodzianko was emphatic but unfretted. He appeared to know whereof he spoke.

“Peace now would be the greatest blow ever suffered by Russia,” Shidlovsky declared. “Perhaps our very greatest benefit to be derived from the war is our economic independence of Germany. Peace at this junction would fail to give us this. Economically Germany has exploited us for long. She has called us the ‘hinterland’ of Europe peopled by Russian barbarians fit only to be her vassals and a source of profit.”

Mr. and Mrs. Moore will make their home in the vicinity of Arlington where Mr. Moore is a farmer; and Mr. and Mrs. Drake will live in Shelbyville where Mr. Drake is in the railroad business.

GOOD MEETING

A business session and social meeting combined to make the gathering of the B. Y. C. D. class of the First Baptist church held last evening a very pleasant one. It was entertained at the home of Malcolm Newkirk in West Tenth street, with Luther Land as assisting host. The report on the constitution was postponed until the next meeting, due to the absence of some of the members of the constitutional committee. The next meeting of the class will be a joint meeting with the ladies of the church in the assembly room of the court house on Monday evening, August 14th. At this time the hosts served delicious refreshments. Mr. Burris of Greensburg was an out-of-town guest.

Va., and Miss Dorothy Allen of Greencastle. An attractive summer color scheme of yellow and white was carried out with floral decorations throughout the rooms and in the luncheon. Nasturtiums adorned the center of the dining table and pretty little place cards bearing nasturtiums marked the places. A tempting three course luncheon was served. Guests at this delightful party were, aside from the guests of honor and the hostess, the Misses Gladys Bebout, Louise Poe, Dorothy Mulno, Kathryn Guffin, Kathryn Wooden, Margaret Ball, Dorothy Sparks, Helen Frazee, Lois Reeves, and Esther Anderson.

The afternoon session opened in the city library with an address of welcome by Mayor Leeb Watkins of Newcastle followed by a discussion of matters pertaining to legislation of interest to business men. DANCE AT RINK

Several weeks have elapsed since the last of the informal dancing parties being given at the skating rink this season. For this reason and due to the fact that a number of acceptances from out of town have already been received, it is judged that quite a large crowd will attend. It will be similar to the previous dances of the kind, the interior of the rink to be decorated as a woodland scene. Mitchell's three piece orchestra is to play for the dance.

HER DEATH NEAR

Newton, Mo.—“I can certainly speak a good word for Cardui, the woman's tonic,” says Mrs. Jay Rhoades, of this town. “I suffered for 12 years with my right side, and the last three years, I would have a bad spell with it about every three months. I would get so bad off, every one would think I could not live.

The first of July, I began taking Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I haven't had a bad spell since soon after I began taking it.

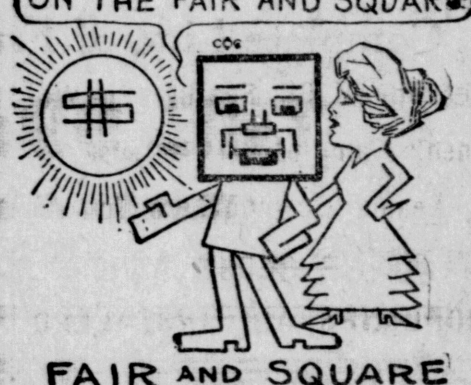

Before taking Cardui, I was so irregular, and, at times, I could hardly stand on my feet. Now, I can clean house, and do any kind of work without its hurting me in the least.

Cardui will surely do for other women, what it did for me. I am telling all my neighbors about it.”

Cardui is a mild and effective tonic for women, that has been found, by actual use, during more than 50 years, to relieve the ailments to which all women are peculiarly liable.

TRIBUTE PAID FIRST KILLED

France Honors Memory of Corporal Jules-Andre Peugeot, First Victim of Present War

NATIONAL SUBSCRIPTION

Band of Attackinf Germans Were All Killed—Happened Before War Was Declared

By HENRY WOOD
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Paris, August 2.—France paused today in tribute to the memory of Corporal Jules-Andre Peugeot, the first Frenchman killed in the present war.

It was at Joncherey on the Upper Rhine, at 10 o'clock a. m., August 2, 1914, about 24 hours before the war actually was declared between Germany and France, that Peugeot was shot to death by Lieutenant Mayer, at the head of a German patrol squad.

A national subscription is today being collected under the patronage of the Minister of War and the Minister of Public Instruction for the erection of a monument to Corporal Jules-Andre Peugeot on the spot where he fell.

It is proposed that the name and heroic acts of Peugeot pass down in history as have those of Marechal des Logis Pagnez, the first victim of the war of 1870, who was killed at Niedebromm.

Peugeot 21, was a corporal in the sixth company of the 44th regiment of infantry. Early in August he was stationed at Joncherey, two kilometers from Delle and twelve kilometers from the German frontier.

On the morning of August 2, he had just finished placing a sentinel and returned to the house of A. M. Dancourt, when the latter's little daughter came running in crying.

“The Prussians! The Prussians,” Rushing outside, Corporal Peugeot found himself facing a mounted German patrol of seven members under command of Lieutenant Mayer of the Fifth Regiment of Chasseurs stationed at Mulhouse.

Peugeot gave the order to halt, to which Mayer replied by drawing his revolver and firing three shots into the body of the corporal. The latter fell to his knees, discharging his gun before he could take aim.

By this time a few of Peugeot's men had rushed up, one of whom, named Monnier, killed Lieutenant Mayer with two shots from his rifle. In the fight that followed, participated in by some French dragoons who had come up at the sound of the firing, all of the Germans were killed with the exception of one who escaped.

Peugeot, was the only French soldier killed in the fray. He has since been cited to the order of the day for his bravery.

ROOKIES BEGIN MIMIC BATTLE

James J. Shanahan Writes of Activities at Citizens Training Camp at Plattsburg, N. Y.

THEY ARE NOW ON LONG HIKE

“Soldiers” Get Military Training From United States Army Officers That is Invaluable

James J. Shanahan of this city, who is a “rookie” in the citizens training camp at Plattsburg, N. Y., has addressed a letter to the Daily Republican under date of July 31, describing life in the camp. The “rookies” this week started on a long hike which will lead them to the scene of a mimic battle with the regulars. Mr. Shanahan is a member of Company H, Sixth regiment. His letter follows:

Dear Sirs: When I arrived at Plattsburg I was surprised to see the wonderful establishment for the training of men. Everything is so arranged that sanitation is practically perfect. Meals are very good.

There are nearly 7,000 “rookies,” in camp. These are divided into four regiments. The regiments are divided into companies which are commanded by regular army officers.

Last week was given over to range work and practice hikes, the purpose of the hikes being to harden the rookies, prepare them for field operations and mimic war. The extreme heat is taking off much of the weight of some of us, besides giving us a coat of bronze. The most popular place here seems to be the dispensary. At all times it seems to be well filled. There can be seen “rookies” with sore feet, sunburned noses and faces, chapped lips, and sometimes sunburned scalps. Saturday we took a hike of about ten miles in the morning and all along the road could be seen fellows who had dropped out.

The most interesting work to me was the long range practice. In the range practice I did very well. I qualified easily as a sharpshooter, ranking as tenth man in our company. Twenty-two qualified as sharpshooters and fifty as marksmen. There were many who failed to qualify. I think the reason of this was that many had never handled a gun before or at least never handled one whose recoil is as great as the Springfield rifle. You can imagine the recoil of a gun which shoots 23 miles.

Saturday evening was a gala day in Plattsburg. The entire population turned out to see the Plattsburg Post Parade, which was reviewed by General Wood. It was the largest military parade of citizen trained soldiers ever held in the United States. There being seven thousand men in uniform.

There are all classes of business men here from all parts of the country, and hundreds of men from the great colleges of the East. In my tent there is a lawyer, a doctor, a professor from Carnegie Institute, a banker and two manufacturers.

Our physical culture training and drill has been under Capt. Herman J. Koehler from West Point, the greatest drill master in the U. S. A.

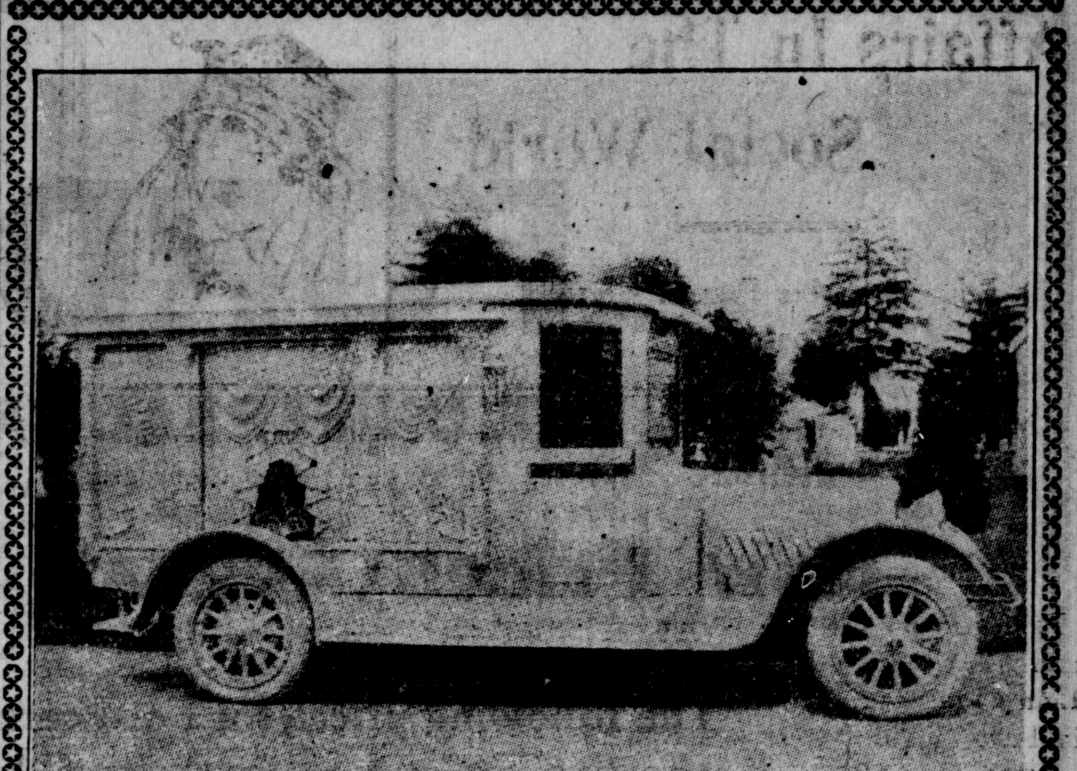

Tomorrow, July 31 we begin our long hike to the south of Plattsburg. The hike will continue 'til camp breaks Aug. 8. During this time we will fight a mimic battle having the “regulars” as our enemy. Today is a very busy day. Everyone is preparing for this long looked for hike.

Sincerely Yours,

JAMES J. SHANAHAN

LEADERS TAKE GREAT INTEREST

Politicians Are Wondering About Coming Meeting Of Woman Suffrage Association

WILL BE AT ATLANTIC CITY

Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt Declares Every Phase of Work Will be Discussed By Delegates

Atlantic City, N. J. Aug., 2—Politicians here got their ears close to the ground in anticipation of the emergency-called convention of the National American Woman Suffrage Association which opens here September 6th. This was shown by letters and telegrams pouring in on suffrage leaders here today. With the leaders of the Women's force determined to follow up the victories gained at the Democratic and Republican national conventions, the action to be taken by the delegates here promises to hold as much interest for the political wisecracks as the Maine elections. Moreover, this interest is being stimulated by the air of mystery which hovers over the suffrage convention, as comparatively little news has leaked out to date concerning either the program or the plans of the leaders. Nor will the women at the head of the movement relieve the anxiety of the watchful political waiters with any advance information on the subject. We have called the convention so that every phase of every subject which concerns our cause, our policies and our organization may properly be considered," said Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, president of the National American Woman Suffrage Association, when interviewed today. "But what action are you going to take?" demanded the interviewer. "That will be for the convention to decide," was the smiling reply. "You may state however, that no voice will be silenced and no opinion suppressed." Further than that Mrs. Catt would say nothing. Sixty-seven State suffrage organizations covering every State in the Union, are affiliated with the national suffrage association and will be represented at the convention, which will extend from September sixth through the tenth. Altogether, more than a thousand of the most representative women of the country will be in attendance. Although the official program has not yet been made public, it is known that a three-sided debate between the supporters of State action, federal action and those who believe in both, will be one of the big features of the convention. In the South the feeling is said to be strong against the national suffrage association abandoning any policy that would lead to a straight fight for a federal suffrage amendment.

In other sections of the country, however, notably in those states where amendments to the State constitutions take years of work and are regarded as practically impossible, the sentiment is reported to be equally strong for the abandonment of State campaigns and a concentration of the National's machinery for a drive on Congress.

Both of these factions will be well represented at the convention, as well as those suffragists who believe in a continuation of the policy of combined federal and state action, which has won 12 States for suffrage and converted millions of voters to believe in it all over the nation.

The clash between these factions will be watched with interest by the politicians, because the outcome may have a decided effect upon the fall campaign of both the leading parties. forawhereof go

City Council Sustains Remonstrance
Against Paving Two Blocks
in an Alley

PARK READY FOR ASSEMBLY

Supt. Mahin Reports Increase of 18 1/2
Per Cent in Electrical Output
During Year

There will be no concrete alleys constructed here this year. This the city council decided last night in sustaining a remonstrance against one proposed improvement and laying the other on the table indefinitely.

The remonstrance was presented against the paving of the alley between Main and Perkins street from Third street north to Fifth street. Howard E. Barrett appeared before the council representing the remonstrators. There were several named on the remonstrance that were on the petition. According to Mr. Barrett, seven of the property owners were in favor of the paving and fourteen were against it.

After explaining the law to the council in which he was upheld by the city attorney, the council voted to sustain the remonstrance by a vote of four to one, Councilman Scudder voted against the motion. Councilman Lee then moved that the paving of the alley from Fifth to Sixth street be killed and this was done by the same vote. The improvement of this section of the alley had advanced to the point of advertising for bids. Mr. Scudder explained his vote by stating that he desired to be consistent. He had been for both improvements and did not change his views when it came to a vote.

The question of cleaning Hodges branch through the city was again discussed. The council believed there was little use of cleaning the ditch in the city if the township did not clean it on through to the point where it empties in Flatrock. The township trustee advertised for bids but failed to receive any and as the law states the work must be done in August there is no chance of it being cleaned this year. The council decided to wait until the trustee got ready to clean his part of the ditch and then co-operate with him.

The street commissioner reported that the new bridge in the city park was completed and that the weeds

BAND CONCERT ON TONIGHT

None Will be Given Next Week Due to the Chautauqua.

The usual weekly band concert will be given this evening at eight o'clock on the band stand on the west side of the public square. The Odd Fellows band has been doing unusually well this year and many compliments have been passed on their music. There will be no concert next week because the chautauqua will be in progress at that time.

A marriage license was issued yesterday to Robert H. Jones and Mildred G. Bass.

PROSECUTOR WAS IN MANILLA TODAY

Visits Scene of Shooting but Fails to Uncover any New Evidence or Facts

CLINGMAN AT WORK AT USUAL

Prosecutor Albert Stevens was in Manila today investigating the shooting of George Perry by George W. Clingman. The prosecutor's visit failed to uncover any new evidence or any new angle to the tragedy which cost the life of Perry, a member of the fishing party, mistaken for a burglar by Clingman.

Clingman, who was released from jail yesterday on bond provided for the first degree murder charge, was at the Mull farm today working as usual. When the charge was first filed yesterday afternoon Clingman was of the thought that he would secure the Mull brothers to go on his bond and stated that a trip to Manila would be made for this purpose. He did not like the delay, however and secured P. A. Miller, his father, Rolla Clingman and John D. Megee as his bondsmen. It is understood that the Muls would readily have signed the bond. As stated yesterday the amount was $1,000.

Coroner Green has not yet filed his verdict and will not do so for a few days.

LECTURE FULL OF HUMAN INTEREST

Glenn Frank Deals With Modern Subjects in Way That Appeals to All Walks of Life.

AT CHAUTAUQUA ON MONDAY

O. B. Stephenson Says Zedlers and Colangelo's Band Are Attractions Above Ordinary.

People who are of the opinion that the lecture by Glenn Frank of Northwestern university, Monday afternoon at three o'clock at the Rush county chautauqua, which opens next Sunday and continues until the following Sunday is ordinary, are greatly under estimating the man, according to members of the chautauqua program committee who have been getting reports on his lectures within the last week.

While in Chicago a few days ago, J. H. Scholl talked with O. B. Stephenson, representative of a bureau which has furnished the chautauqua a good list of talent. The program committee has always depended upon the word of Mr. Stephenson because his advice has never been wrong. He has always been frank to say what talent is extra good and what is not, regardless of whether it is his or belongs to some other bureau.

Mr. Stephenson told Prof. Scholl that Glenn Frank was creating a great impression wherever he has appeared. He will discuss in his lecture here what will happen financially after the European war ends. His lectures always deal with modern problems. A chautauqua audience always demands three things of a man who addresses it—that he be deeply interested in his subject, must be accurately informed about it and able to talk about it in an interesting way. This criterion is met in Mr. Frank's lectures.

All of his lectures are on vital subjects that are of interest to all people. While it may seem that a discussion of financial affairs after the war will be a very dry subject, it is stated that Mr. Frank has a way of making a thing interesting and dressing it up so that it has an appeal to every walk of life. His lectures represent the scholarship of study in the language of the man in the street. They are shot through with human interest.

Mr. Frank is by nature and training a clear visioned representative of Modernism and it is voiced by the intellectual and industrial life of the country. His treatment of these problems is marked by keen analysis, rare charm of diction, deftness of illustration and singular clearness of expression. His lectures possess the sincerity and vitality which come from careful study.

Mr. Stephenson told Prof. Scholl that Colangelo's band and orchestra was an up-to-date organization that dashed off some late music in good style and was equally as good in rendering the work of the old masters. He said the band and orchestra had been giving a good account of itself wherever it had appeared.

The Lyceum man also reported that the Zedler Symphonie Sextette was better than the Schumann Quintet, which was here two years ago and left such a lasting impression on chautauqua patrons. To be better than the Schumanns will have to be exceptionally good, it must be admitted, but chautauqua patrons are prepared for something good.

Prof. L. G. Ogden of the Ogden College of Physical Culture, son of M. J. Ogden, 313 East Eighth street, who has made arrangements to lecture before the teachers institute each morning of chautauqua week, except Saturday, at the court house

Supernatural Element in "A Midsummer Nigh's Dream" is to be one of Features

TUESDAY AT CHAUTAUQUA

No part of the production of "A Midsummer Nigh's Dream," is to be more picturesque than the scenes in which the supernatural element is introduced. Myriads of fairies are to flit about the stage, which will be an ideal setting for them. The plan is to make the stage into an outdoor bower. In the group of fairies are Miss Kathleen Hogsett, as a singing fairy; Miss Gladys Bebout as a speaking fairy; and in the group of fairies are Frances Payne, Kathryn Blount, Laurett Abnerombie, Milfine Cross, Mary Maud and Rosaline Reed, Margaret Herkless, Helen Lambert, Axine Dickman, Ruth Chadwick, Mary Elizabeth Beale, and Viola Jay. Miss Louise Poe is to play as queen of the fairies. Several new characters have been added to the cast. Tom Saunders and Norman Reed have recently been given parts.

As to the music, a full orchestra is to play for the production and there are several vocal numbers and choruses from Mendelssohn.

NO TRUTH IN STORY OF MEXICAN RAID

Troops Rushed to Finlay But There Was no Foundation for Rumor— Kelly Reports.

FIRST CAME FROM MILITIA

(By United Press.)

El Paso, Tex., Aug. 2.—Captain William Kelly, Jr., commanding the cavalry troops rushed from Fort Bliss to Finlay reported today there was absolutely no truth in the report that 150 Mexican bandits had raided the United States. The report of the alleged raid was received last night by General Bell from militia officers at Fort Hancock.

(By United Press.)

El Paso, Texas, August 2.—On reports that 150 Mexican bandits crossed the Rio Grande at Finlay, Texas, eight miles west of Fort Hancock, two troops of cavalry, a motorcycle corps and ten truck loads of infantry were rushed from Fort Bliss today to Fort Hancock. The reported raid is believed to be in retaliation for four Mexican bandits killed there Monday.

SEPARATE PEACE SEEMS UNLIKELY

Sentiment in Five War Capitals is That it Must be Kind That Will be Lasting.

PUBLIC OPINIONS CHANGE

England is Ready For Peace Now, But it Must be on Her Terms— Elsewhere About Same.

That separate peace is unlikely is the burden of the last series of articles by United Press staff correspondents in five war capitals, on the second anniversary of the great conflict. It seems that there will be no peace unless it be lasting. Public opinion is changing in regard to the war, according to the observations of the correspondents. The articles follow:

British Peace. By ED. L. KEN.

London, July 12 (By Mail)—This story has to run several hundred words so as to match up with Ackerman's, Simms', Wood's, and Hearley's. Otherwise, it could be told in ten, thus: England is ready for peace now—on her own terms.

She is just as ready as she was the day after war was declared. War weariness has not discouraged her. The awful drain of blood and money, the knowledge that every day's prolongation of the struggle means a bigger bill in both to pay, has not abated her zeal or released her determination to win what she went to war for. The military reserves of the last year have stiffened her purpose to accomplish a peace that will remove forever the "Menace of Prussian militarism."

Yes, there is a peace-at-any-price party in England. But its members are negligible, its influence is nil. Some half-dozen of them are in Parliament because there has been no general election since war began.

As proof of this, witness the special election in Merthyr Tydvil, South Wales, the red-hot socialist constituency in all Britain. Keir Hardie, ever a consistent peace advocate had represented Merthyr Tydvil in Commons for fifteen years. When he died his seat was contested by two members of the Labor party, Stanton and Winstone, the former a supporter of Britain's war, the latter a Hardie pacifist. Stanton had the nerve to tell the coal miners he was for continuing the war to the finish, even if it meant conscription twice over and they elected him by a vote of 10,286 to 6,080. If Morrell, Snowden, Trevelyan, Outhwaite, Pringle or Mason, all from far less radical constituencies, should stand for re-election, there can be little doubt as to the result.

On the question of peace, statesmen and common folks with the important exception referred to, are one. There has been no criticism of the replies of Premier Asquith and Foreign Secretary Grey to Germany's peace overtures.

England is ready for peace on her own terms. England's terms are those of her Allies. The general principals of which she is fighting have been repeatedly stated. Only one of her specific terms which the Allies endorse has been laid down, that is the restoration of Belgium. The German Chancellor's recent tentative offer to create a new Belgium, not a Franco-English vassal, but between whose people and Germans there should be the collaboration of neighbors, brought a prompt and specific response from the British Premier.

German Peace.

MILITIA COMPANIES ON THE MEXICAN BORDER ARE RIFE WITH DISCONTENT

Some Members of Indiana Companies Complain Because They Expected to Get to Fight

TURNED INTO DITCH DIGGERS

By WILLIAM G. SHEPHERD

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

San Antonio, Texas, August 2.—Militia companies which contain members who left factory positions expecting to fight in Mexico are rife with discontent.

It is undeniable that the federalized system which broke down as to soldiers with dependants and also in connection with students who will be leaving for their homes shortly, is working unfairly in respect to factory hands.

In the street of Company G, Second Indiana Regiment, I found some men digging ditches.

"You want to know why we joined the militia," said one man. All stopped and gathered around.

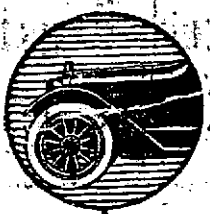

"We were blankety blank, blank fools," they said.

"We quit our jobs in Muncie factories to come down here and fight and they turn us into ditch diggers."

Another dozen men shouted excitedly: "If there is going to be no war, we want to go home. It's a blankety blank blank shame to keep us down here from our factory jobs and keep us working like this."

"They got us excited with war talk; that's why we joined," said another.

FAIR EXCHANGE

A New Back for an Old One—How a

Rushville Resident Made a
Bad Back Strong

The back aches at times with a dull indescribable feeling, making you weary and restless; piercing pains shoot across the region of the kidneys, and again the loins are so lame that to stoop is agony. No use to rub or apply a plaster to the back if the kidneys are weak. You cannot reach the cause. Follow the example of this Rushville citizen.

Charley Walker, 1023 N. Arthur St., Rushville, says: "I work where a lot of turpentine is used and it keeps my kidneys out of order more or less all the time. My back gives me the most trouble. It aches and is lame and stiff. The kidney secretions are too frequent, in passage and highly colored. Not long ago, I decided to try Doan's Kidney Pills and got a box at Lytle's Drug Store. They surely helped me and considerably relieved the trouble. I have a lot of faith in Doan's Kidney Pills and expect to continue their use."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a "kidney remedy" get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Walker had. Foster-McLure Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y. (Adv.)

WHEAT JUMPS ON BOARD OF TRADE

September Close Today at $1.30 1/2 at Higher.

$1.25 OFFERED IN RUSHVILLE

(By United Press.)

Chicago, Aug. 2.—Wheat jumped terrifically today on the local board of trade. September closed at $1.30 1/2 and was six cents higher than the close yesterday. December wheat closed at $1.34 1/2 and was also six cents higher than yesterday's close. Reports of crop damage in Canada and this country is said to be the cause of the jump.

T. H. Reed and Son were quoting the price of new wheat today at $1.25 a bushel, which is the highest price ever paid in this county for new wheat. Mr. Reed stated that in his long experience in the mill business this is the highest price he ever paid. It was freely predicted that new wheat would reach the price of $1.50.

THIS ENCAMPMENT
MAY BE THE LAST

Golden Jubilee Reunion of G. A. R. at Kansas City May End National Meetings

WILL OPEN ON AUGUST 29

(By United Press.)
Kansas, City, Mo., Aug. 2.—Twenty thousand veterans of the Grand Army of the Republic will mobilize here August 29 for the fiftieth national encampment. The fact that this will be the golden jubilee reunion, that it may be the last great encampment and that it will be the first in this section of the country in many years may send the crowd of visitors to 125,000.

While the young blood of the country is mobilized on the Mexican border, the "boys of '61" who fought to save the union will gather here for what promises to be the final review.

When the grey-haired and stooped veterans pass in review, few are expected to march. With the armies of today thoroughly motorized, the old men who wear the bronze button will not feel that it is a disgrace to pass in review in automobiles. Kansas City will furnish the motor cars.

HEADQUARTERS AT COLUMBUS SHACK

Flag Floating Over it is Only Thing That Would Distinguish it as Such.

ADOBE FORMS THE WALLS

(By United Press.)
Columbus, N. M., Aug. 2.—Possibly the most insignificant structure in Columbus camp today is used as U. S. base headquarters and the office of Major C. S. Farnsworth, commandant of the base. It is a V-shaped building of mud, or adobe, with a canvas roof. The flag floating over it is the only thing to distinguish it as headquarters.

The ceilings are low and the few windows badly chinked with mud. When the wind blows the major turns up his collar and puts on his goggles. On the earth, pine boards have been laid for floor. Adobe unadorned, forms the walls of the office. A sheet iron stove is set in a box of sand. The walls are covered with detail maps of Mexico and Chihuahua, showing the truck routes and water holes.

In the outer office alert orderlies wait for orders to rush messages to the wireless station or telegraph office.

Wilson and Dorothy Phillips will also be seen in a Rex comedy-drama entitled "Their Anniversary." One other reel is on the program. Tomorrow matinee and night will be the next number of the Pathe serial, "The Iron Claw."

The Princess offers the five act drama "The Ruling Passion" for the program tonight. William Shea

Hughes on Suffrage

Candidate Hughes undoubtedly made many friends when he announced yesterday in a telegram to Senator Sutherland of Utah that he favored the submission and ratification of an amendment to the United States constitution giving women the right to vote. Looking at it from a purely political point of view, it is a very wise attitude because by such a declaration Mr. Hughes will win many votes, and will likely lose none, or in any event only a few.

But in regard to the merits of the question of giving women the ballot, Mr. Hughes was undoubtedly justified in his pronouncement in favor of woman suffrage. Most certainly women should have the privilege to vote if they so desire. There would be nothing compulsory about such an amendment. Women opposed to being granted the ballot need not vote. They can stay away from the polls just as some men make it the practice of doing.

Furthermore, Candidate Hughes is following the tenets of the Republican party when he declares for the reform through amendment to the United States constitution. The Republican party has ever been one that stood for a strong centralized government, whereas the Democratic party has been known as the state's right party. While President Wilson appeared to have a legitimate defense for his argument that the suffrage question should be settled by the states individually, when the history of his party is considered, there is no other recourse for the Republican party, if it endorses woman suffrage, as the national convention did, but to amend the constitution of the United States.

The process of amending is so safeguarded that there will be no danger of the amendment being passed unless a majority of the people want it. After passing congress the amendment must be sanctioned by three-fourths of the state legislatures, after the amendment passes congress, it may be ratified by the states at any time. Once a state legislature votes for an amendment to the United States constitution, its action can no be rescinded; but should a state legislature vote against such an amendment, it is possible at any time for the vote to be cast in favor and the expression against becomes void. So the advantages are in favor of the ratification of an amendment to the United States constitution, but for the large majority of votes necessary.

Since James Whitcomb Brounger

is a "repeater" at the Columbus chautauqua this year, it looks like he ought to be a "winner" at the Rush county chautauqua. Anyway, his Christian name sounds good to most Hoosiers.

on the city ground had been cut and everything was in fine shape for the chautauqua. It was also reported that the work of tapping the first street sewer was progressing nicely. All of the taps have been made but nine. The city had a little trouble here in getting the property owners to tap the sanitary system instead of the old county sewer that has long since been abandoned.

Superintendent Mahin reported that the city had saved a total of $1,112.90 in coal during the last year. He also stated that there had been an increase of 18 1/2 per cent in the electrical output and that the saving had resulted from installing water meters. The year is now up marking the end of the contract for Indiana coal. This coal has proved satisfactory.

Mr. Mahin also took up with the council the question of flushing some of the mains to get rid of the red water. The council believed it best to flush the mains rather than drain the mains and run the water back to the reservoir.

Mr. Mahin reported that he had been carrying out the instructions of the council regarding the turning off of water consumers delinquent. The list contained 112 names and all but 12 have been turned off. One peculiar case was brought to the attention of the council. Two different families are getting water through one meter. One is a tenant and the other owns his property. They have split the cost of the water equally and now one has paid and the other has not. The question arose as to what to do with the one that has not paid.

The council argued for a long time. Some believed it would not be right to turn the water off as one of the parties had paid. It was decided that the city should make only one charge and that hereafter the bill would be rendered in the name of the party owning the meter. At the same time the party owning the meter will have to look to the other party for the rent. City Treasurer Stech was told not to keep separate accounts of this kind and instead of double meter users let the parties the city keeping the books for the arrange it between themselves.

A petition signed by five property owners in East Eleventh street was presented to the council asking for the construction of a sanitary sewer to that section of the city. The council discussed this a long time ago when it was first proposed to pave the street. According to the council, the only possible drain is to extend the sewer from Jackson street over to this part of the city and as this cost would be exceedingly heavy the city did not think it best. This part of the city will have to have a drain some time and the cost is going to amount to a large sum. The petition was laid on the table as the city is not able at this time to provide a sanitary system to this section.

WOMAN GIVEN TWO DAYS

To Make Up Her Mind for Surgical Operation. She Refused; Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Philadelphia, Pa.—“One year ago I was very sick and I suffered with pains in my side and back until I nearly went crazy. I went to different doctors and they all said I had female trouble and would not get any relief until I would be operated on. I had suffered for four years before this time, but I kept getting worse the more medicine I took. Every month since I was a young girl I had suffered with cramps in my sides at periods and was never regular. I saw your advertisement in the newspaper and the picture of a woman who had been saved from an operation and this picture was impressed on my mind. The doctor had given me only two more days to make up my mind so I sent my husband to the drug store at once for a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and believe me, I only took four doses before I felt a change and when I had finished the third bottle I was cured and never felt better. I grant you the privilege to publish my letter and am only too glad to let other women know of my cure.”—Mrs. THOS. MCGONIGAL, 3432 Hartville Street, Phila., Pa.

many wants peace because she believes she has won the war. The Allies don't want peace because they believe they will win the war.

The difference is between the “has won” and the “will win” and so long as there is this division the neutral diplomats in Berlin, the best informed neutral observers, declare there is no possibility of peace.

The people the world over are encouraged by peace talk and at the end of two years of war they are ready to make peace, each on its own terms. So are the German officials, the British cabinet and the government of France, but the public terms are such that an agreement could not be easily made.

The great difference between the Allies and the Central powers is that the Central powers are open to impartial mediation while the Allies discourage the idea.

The Allies, when their armies were being beaten back in France, and in Russia and when Serbia was invaded said to the public: “Don't mind these things; we will win ultimately. The Central powers have convinced the German people that every great military advance was a step toward victory and that because there have been so many of them the Central powers have been victorious.

That is the peace situation at the close of the second year of the war according to the view in Berlin. It raises many questions. Would Wilson be accepted as a mediator or, if not Wilson, then the next President? Would Germany insist on the terms she has outlined?

The answer depends on coming events. They will be influenced by military developments. The election in the United States will have its effect. Internal affairs in the various countries will increase or modify the respective peace views.

There is a peace party in Germany. Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg leads it. Some of the Conservative members of the Reichstag are his opponents. They know that if the Chancellor makes peace now he will not insist on the annexation of Belgium and Poland and that his terms will be “moderate”. The Conservatives lead the party which believes Germany has been decisively successful in this war and they think Germany should dictate iron clad terms. They know that the Chancellor will never support their terms so they are out to oust him.

French Peace

By HENRY WOOD

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Paris, July 5, (By Mail)—France is open to the consideration of a peace imposed by herself and her Allies. None other.

Within the last three months, or

the last quarter of the first two years of the war, France four times officially has said so.

A formal declaration by her president, a formal statement by her prime minister, a spontaneous outburst in her Chamber of Deputies and a great manifestation by the French people themselves all have said this and France closed the second year of the war with an absolutely solid front for a peace for all time to come.

May 14 at Nancy, President Poincaré delivered perhaps the most remarkable address that ever fell from the lips of a French President. It crystallized the sentiments of the French on peace.

In refusing to accept the olive branch of diplomacy as a means of settling the war France did not fear that in diplomatic negotiations with Germany she might be worsted. She is willing to let her victory in the Agadir case stand as a witness to her diplomacy to settle the controversy. She insisted upon war and France insists that Germany must finish the war.

Following these declarations there came within a week a spontaneous outburst in the French chamber as still further affirmation that France does not want even to discuss a negotiable peace.

The people themselves followed quickly; within a week, with one of those manifestations that mark epochs in the life of nations. Before the present war, France was not united on the question of preparedness. If a regiment of troops passed it was certain someone would applaud and cry “Vive l'armee” and that someone else would shout “Vive la Paix.” Noisy groups would form and riots were likely to follow.

On June 1, in honor of her dead General Gallieni, Paris witnessed the first great military display that has taken place since the war began. Ascension day is one of the great national holidays of France. Representatives of all France lined the streets through which the funeral cortege passed.

Italian Peace.

By JOHN H. HEARLEY.

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Rome, July 5 (By Mail)—Only an Allied peace can satisfy Italy. The war will continue until only an Allied peace can be obtained. This is today's sentiment in Italian diplomatic circles. It is repeated by King Victor in the field. It is endorsed by the people of the Kingdom.

In Austria, Italy fights a hated and an hereditary foe. In Germany she opposes an “industrial and commercial menace.” The Italians are naturally liberty-loving. This characteristic began their war and will continue it, they declare.

To Italy anything, even the greatest bloodshed and the greatest sacrifice, is preferable to a German domination. “Austrians” she hisses at the House's socialistic deputies who cry for a change in government. She frowns on an ex-Premier Giolitti's alleged attempts to return to power. Giolitti has been called Italy's peace-at-any-price. War certainly has sobered and hardened the people. It has made sturdy, stubborn patriots of all classes, especially of the women and children.

Generally Italy wars to save her allies and herself from “oppression.” An unselfish allied patriotism seems to have been born of the travail of a strife. Particularly she fights to win her own “geographical and marine liberty.” As a condition of the allied peace she will press the “correction” of her northern border. She will seek, as she always has sought, the return of her “unredeemed lands,” Trent and Trieste. The natural fortification of the Alps, which are now entirely in Austrian territory, must be divided. Italy must have something besides frontier plains and valleys to insure her a peaceful and prosperous life. The almost insurmountable difficulties of her mountain warfare, she asserts, have proven this to her beyond the shadow of a doubt. The “threat” of an armed Austria looking down upon her, must be forever removed.

Russian Peace.

By WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS.

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Petrograd, July 5 (By Mail)—“You can't write an article about peace in Russia,” declared Sergius Shidlovsky, ex-Vice President of the third Imperial Duma and President of the Bureau of the Progressive Bloc as we paced the long, hardwood floor of the Duma lobby.

“You can't, because there is but one thing to be said about it—one short, sharp, emphatic word—No!”

This sums up fairly well the attitude of the Russian people regarding peace on any other basis than an Allied victory. Two years of war waged under trying circumstances finds them more determined than ever. They feel that they have just begun to fight because they are just now getting organized for fighting. Rumors of a separate peace with Russia have been spread with considerable frequency. It has been said that there is even a Peace Party here, that a considerable element among the population demands peace. I have failed to discover such a party or such an element.

“It is a German lie,” the President of the Duma, Mikhail Rodzianko said when I told him that neutrals had been informed more than once that Russia might accept separate peace. He did not say this in anger. Rather he smiled. His attitude was considerably like that of Mark Twain who, when informed of his own reported demise replied with a dry chuckle that the report had been grossly exaggerated.

Rodzianko was emphatic but unfretted. He appeared to know whereof he spoke.

Peace now would be the greatest blow ever suffered by Russia, Shidlovsky declared. “Perhaps our very greatest benefit to be derived from the war is our economic independence of Germany.” Peace at this juncture would fail to give us this. Economically Germany has exploited us for long. She has called us the “hinterland” of Europe peopled by Russian barbarians fit only to be her vassals and a source of profit.”

A business session and social meeting combined to make the gathering of the B. Y. C. D. class of the First Baptist church held last evening a very pleasant one. It was entertained at the home of Malcolm Newkirk in West Tenth street, with Luther Land as assisting host. The report on the constitution was postponed until the next meeting, due to the absence of some of the members of the constitutional committee. DANCE AT RINK

Several weeks have elapsed since the last of the informal dancing parties being given at the skating rink this season. For this reason and due to the fact that a number of acceptances from out of town have already been received, it is judged that quite a large crowd will attend. It will be similar to the previous dances of the kind, the interior of the rink to be decorated as a woodland scene. Mitchell's three piece orchestra is to play for the dance.

HER DEATH NEAR

So Everyone Thought, But Is Now Well And Stronger Than Ever.

Newton, Mo.—"I can certainly speak a good word for Cardui, the woman's tonic," says Mrs. Jay Rhoades, of this town. "I suffered for 12 years with my right side, and the last three years, I would have a bad spell with it about every three months. I would get so bad off, every one would think I could not live.

The first of July, I began taking Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I haven't had a bad spell since soon after I began taking it.

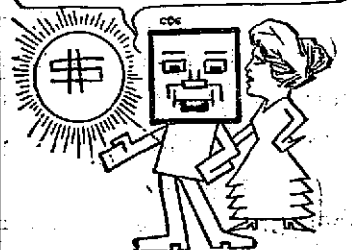

Before taking Cardui, I was so irregular, and, at times, I could hardly stand on my feet. Now, I can clean house, and do any kind of work without its hurting me in the least.

TRIBUTE PAID FIRST KILLED

France Honors Memory of Corporal Jules-Andre Peugeot, First Victim of Present War

NATIONAL SUBSCRIPTION

Band of Attacking Germans Were All Killed—Happened Before War Was Declared

By HENRY WOOD (U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Paris, August 2.—France paused today in tribute to the memory of Corporal Jules-Andre Peugeot, the first Frenchman killed in the present war.

It was at Jucherey on the Upper Rhine, at 10 o'clock a. m., August 2, 1914, about 24 hours before the war actually was declared between Germany and France, that Peugeot was shot to death by Lieutenant Mayer, at the head of a German patrol squad.

A national subscription is today being collected under the patronage of the Minister of War and the Minister of Public Instruction for the erection of a monument to Corporal Jules-Andre Peugeot on the spot where he fell.

It is proposed that the name and heroic acts of Peugeot pass down in history as have those of Marechal des Logis Pagnez, the first victim of the war of 1870, who was killed at Niedbronn.

Peugeot 21, was a corporal in the sixth company of the 44th regiment of infantry. Early in August he was stationed at Jucherey, two kilometers from Delle and twelve kilometers from the German frontier.

On the morning of August 2, he had just finished placing a sentry post and returned to the house of A. M. Daucourt, when the latter's little daughter came running in crying.

"The Prussians! The Prussians!" Rushing outside, Corporal Peugeot found himself facing a mounted German patrol of seven members, under command of Lieutenant Mayer of the Fifth Regiment of Chasseurs stationed at Mulhouse.

Peugeot gave the order to halt, to which Mayer replied by drawing his revolver and firing three shots into the body of the corporal. The latter fell to his knees, discharging his gun before he could take aim.

By this time a few of Peugeot's men had rushed up, one of whom, named Mommer, killed Lieutenant Mayer with two shots from his rifle. In the fight that followed, participated in by some French dragoons who had come up at the sound of the firing, all of the Germans were killed with the exception of one who escaped.

Peugeot was the only French soldier killed in the fray. He has since been cited to the order of the day for his bravery.

ROOKIES BEGIN MIMIC BATTLE

James J. Shanahan Writes of Activities at Citizens Training Camp at Plattsburg, N. Y.

THEY ARE NOW ON LONG HIKE

Soldiers Get Military Training From United States Army Officers That is Invaluable

James J. Shanahan of this city, who is a "rookie" in the citizens training camp at Plattsburg, N. Y., has addressed a letter to the Daily Republican under date of July 31, describing life in the camp. The "rookies" this week started on a long hike which will lead them to the scene of a mimic battle with the regulars. Mr. Shanahan is a member of Company H, Sixth regiment. His letter follows:

Dear Sirs: When I arrived at Plattsburg I was surprised to see the wonderful establishment for the training of men. Everything is so arranged that sanitation is practically perfect. Meals are very good.

The site for the camps is ideal. The ground is well drained and slopes down to Lake Champlain. Looking to the left across the Lake can be seen the Green Mountains of Vermont and to the right of the Lake the Adirondacks.

There are nearly 7,000 "rookies," in camp. These are divided into four regiments. The regiments are divided into companies which are commanded by regular army officers.

Last week was given over to range work and practice hikes, the purpose of the hikes being to harden the rookies, prepare them for field operations and mimic war. The extreme heat is taking off much of the weight of some of us, besides giving us a coat of bronze. The most popular place here seems to be the dispensary. At all times it seems to be well filled. There can be seen "rookies" with sore feet, sunburned noses and faces, chafed lips, and sometimes sunburned scalps. Saturday we took a hike of about ten miles in the morning and all along the road could be seen fellows who had dropped out.

The most interesting work to me was the long range practice. In the range practice I did very well. I qualified easily as a sharpshooter, ranking as tenth man in our company. Twenty-two qualified as sharpshooters and fifty as marksmen. There were many who failed to qualify. I think the reason of this was that many had never handled a gun before or at least never handled one whose recoil is as great as the Springfield rifles. You can imagine the recoil of a gun which shoots 24 miles.

Saturday evening was a gala day in Plattsburg. The entire population turned out to see the Plattsburg Post Parade, which was reviewed by General Wood. It was the largest military parade of citizen trained soldiers ever held in the United States. There being seven thousand men in uniform.

There are all classes of business men here from all parts of the country, and hundreds of men from the great colleges of the East. In my tent there is a lawyer, a doctor, a professor from Carnegie Institute, a banker and two manufacturers.

Our physical culture training and drill has been under Capt. Herman J. Koehler from West Point, the greatest drill master in the U. S. A.

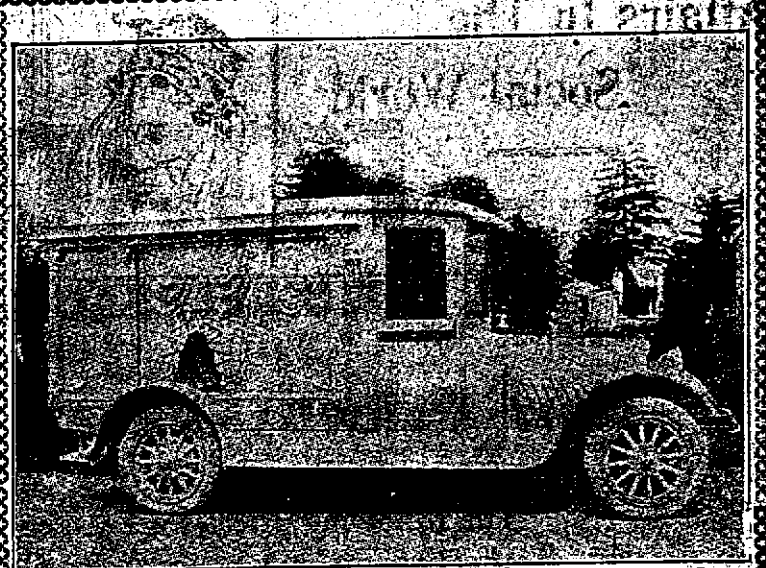

Tomorrow, July 31, we begin our long hike to the south of Plattsburg. The hike will continue 'til camp breaks Aug. 8. During this time we will fight a mimic battle having the "regulars" as our enemy. Today is a very busy day. Every one is preparing for this long, long hike.

Sincerely Yours,

JAMES J. SHANAHAN

tion are you going to take?" demanded the interviewer. "That will be for the convention to decide," was the smiling reply. "You may state however, that no voice will be silenced and no opinion suppressed." Further than that Mrs. Catt would say nothing. Sixty-seven State suffrage organizations covering every State in the Union, are affiliated with the national suffrage association and will be represented at the convention, which will extend from September sixth through the tenth. Altogether, more than a thousand of the most representative women of the country will be in attendance. Although the official program has not yet been made public, it is known that a three-sided debate between the supporters of State action, federal action and those who believe in both, will be one of the big features of the convention.

In the South the feeling is said to be strong against the national suffrage association abandoning any policy that would lead to a straight fight for a federal suffrage amendment.

In other sections of the country,
however, notably in those states where amendments to the State constitutions take years of work and are regarded as practically impossible, the sentiment is reported to be equally strong for the abandonment of State campaigns and a concentration of the National's machinery for a drive on Congress.

Both of these factions will be well represented at the convention, as well as those suffragists who believe in a continuation of the policy of combined federal and state action, which has won 12 States for suffrage and converted millions of voters to believe in it all over the nation.

The clash between these factions will be watched with interest by the politicians, because the outcome may have a decided effect upon the fall campaign of both the leading parties.

Politicians Are Wondering About Coming Meeting Of Woman Suff-

WILL BE AT ATLANTIC CITY

Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt Declares
Every Phase of Work Will be Discussed By Delegates

Atlantic City, N. J. Aug. 2.—Politicians here got their ears close to the ground in anticipation of the emergency-called convention of the National American Woman Suffrage Association which opens here September 6th. This was shown by letters and telegrams pouring in on suffrage leaders here today. With the leaders of the Women's forces determined to follow up the victories gained at the Democratic and Republican national conventions, the action to be taken by the delegates here promises to hold as much interest for the political wisecracks as the Maine elections. Moreover, this interest is being stimulated by the air of mystery which hovers over the suffrage convention, as comparatively little news has leaked out to date concerning either the program or the plans of the leaders. Nor will the women at the head of the movement relieve the anxiety of the watchful political waiters with any advance information on the subject. We have called the convention so that every phase of every subject which concerns our cause, our policies and our organization may properly be considered, said Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, president of the National American Woman Suffrage Association, when interviewed today. "But what ac-
